ATOL Information

Flights booked directly on an airline website are not ATOL protected, even if you book car hire or hotel accommodation from another company via the airline website or via a weblink on the airline website. If you make payment for flights by credit card, it can provide financial protection: please check with your credit card provider for details. Hertz Car Rental and hotel reservations are made and paid for directly with that third party. Any changes or cancellation to these third party bookings must be made directly with that contracted supplier.
